

FONTS

Fonts are the number one problem in transferring files to the printer. Your printer does not have every font you do. Fonts can be found in the font folder under the control panel in your computer. They must accompany your print file. Some programs have the option to outline fonts. This is a good option if you do not want to send the fonts. However make sure you save the outlined file as a separate file from your working files. Once outlined they can not be converted back reducing your ability to edit.
